PREFACE

This index is composed of three sections:

1. Basic Classifications Subject (MP-1, pt. II, ch. 14, par. 6a(1).
2. Current VA Directives (MP-1, pt. II, ch. 14, par. 6a(2).
3. Rescinded VA Directives (Not cumulative).

The temporary status of various materials, such as memorandums, or temporary "correspondence"—type media, make it unfeasible to include such materials in the index; nevertheless, such materials are subject to the provisions of 38 CFR 1.552(A) (MP-1, pt. II, ch. 14, par. 6c).

This index is considered appropriate for use by the public and VA personnel. All material listed is available for public inspection and copying (MP-1, pt. II, ch. 14, par. 6a(4)).

To obtain maximum use of the basic classifications subject listing, those who use the Index should familiarize themselves with the major key subjects, and the relationship of the subdivision listings to the major subject. To further simplify usage of this listing two examples are given below of locating information on a particular subject:

Example 1. Information is desired concerning the shipment of the remains of a deceased veteran.

Step. 1. The user determines the "key" or major subject listing to which this particular subject would be related. It appears fairly obvious that the key heading would be "BURIAL."

Step 2. The user locates the key heading of "BURIAL" in the subject-alphabetic listing.

Step 3. Next a search of the subdivision listings under this major subject should be made. Because the VA contracts for transportation of remains, the user, probably knowing this, would locate the first subdivision listing of "Contracts" and upon further review would locate the second subdivision listing of "Transportation and/or shipment of remains" with appropriate references to the sources of information on this subject.

Example 2. Information is desired concerning an appeal of a classification action.

Step 1. The user determines the "key" or major subject listing to which this particular subject is related. Obviously this information is related to VA employees, and therefore would be found under the major heading of "EMPLOYEES."

Step 2. The user locates the "key" heading of "EMPLOYEES."

Step 3. Next the user looks for the related subdivision listing and since a classification action is based on "Position" this will be the first subdivision heading. The next subdivision listing is "Classification" and the third "Actions" followed by a breakdown of types of actions listed under "Appeals."
